

Early career faculty can accelerate their research career with:

A six-week summer residency in San Francisco for three summers

Funds for a pilot research study

Mentorship by UCSF faculty who know how to obtain NIH funding

Supportive relationships with new colleagues

Ongoing support of your career development

The CAPS Visiting Professors program is designed for investigators conducting social and behavioral HIV/STI prevention research with ethnic minority communities across the United States. The program is based at the UCSF Center for AIDS Prevention Studies (CAPS) and is funded by the National Institutes of Health.

The program application for Summer 2018 is open until January 17, 2018.

email
vp.program@ucsf.edu

visit caps.ucsf.edu/vp

